

Private Property and The Human Mind

Steven Gerardi*

Professor Emeritus for Sociology, New York City College of Technology (CUNY), USA.

*Correspondence:

Steven Gerardi, Professor Emeritus for Sociology, New York City College of Technology (CUNY), USA.

Received: 14 Jun 2024; Accepted: 25 Jul 2024; Published: 02 Aug 2024

Citation: Steven Gerardi. Private Property and The Human Mind. Int J Psychiatr Res 2024; 7(4): 1-2.

ABSTRACT

John Adams a founding father of the USA, suggested that Property creates a link between liberty, human freedom and identity. This effort will also suggest that Private Property is at the center of human conscience, thought, Ideas, and behavior.

Keywords

Liberty, Human freedom, Identity.

Conscience and Private Property

According to Lock the protection of property preserves the rights to life, liberty, and has become one of the central tenets of classical liberalism. Hence, for Lock Private Property includes the mind, inventions, art, works of designs, and symbols.

Only Human beings have property, and property at the core is Personal Freedom and liberty. The origins of property lie in very human Being's act of creation based in symbolic thought; indeed, this creation is "MINE".

John Adams suggested that property rights is an important aspect of Human Freedom. Indeed, Adams recognized the significance of property rights in enabling individuals to exercise freely with their liberties, autonomy, and with the pursuit of happiness. John Adams concluded that property is an essential right for Humanity for it acts as a component of the Human Psyche, Spirt, and human potential [1-3].

Human Potential and Property Ownership

This effort has suggested that the ownership of property goes far beyond land ownership. Indeed, beyond possessions, property ownership, is at the root of intellectual property, personal identity, Human psyche, ideas, inventions, art, and human talents.

Private Property and the Human Mind (psyche)

Michelangelo's The Sistine Chaple is by far the greatest art work in recent history. Pope SIXTUS 1V (1474-1481) and Pope Julius commissioned an art creation of Human behavior found in the Bible, painted on the Chaple Ceilings' (leaving the creative outcome in the hands of Michelangelo). As this effort has suggested, Michealangelo's "Private PROPERTY Mind concept" of Biblical events still can be found in The Sistine Chaple.

Wright Brother's and the Kitty Hawk

The Wright Brothers spent much of their profits from their Bike shop realizing their concept of a Flying Machine. The "Private PROPERTY Concept" found in the Wright Brother's has become today's modern air transportation invention, located in the Brother's creative mind.

Albert Einstein

The Concept of the Theory of relativity, quantum mechanics and  $E = mc^2$ , all leading to Space flight, the Black Hole, and Humans 'in Space. Indeed, all based in Einstein's creative mind.

Pablo Picasso and Cubism 1912

Cubism represents the opening up of closed form (in space), as seen by Picasso creative "representation" of the form of objects and their position in space. Indeed, Picasso's "Private PROPERTY Concept" and ownership.

The Artist DaVinci as a master of the Scientific future created sketches of helicopters and submarines. Indeed, Davinci's private property mind ownership gave him a look into the future of air travel and underwater movement.

---

Conclusion

John Adams, and John Lock suggested that Property is a link between liberty, human freedom, Human identity, the human conscience, human thought, ideas, abstractions and Human behavior. Thus, the Human mind defines Private PROPERTY Ownership.

References

1. John Adams David McCullough, Nelson Runger, et al.
2. John Locke - Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy. 2001; 1632-1704.
3. Steven Gerardi, A brief Survey of the Sociological Imagination; Third Edition Kendall Hunt.